1. Reaction Papers:

    Each student will complete a reaction paper on a topic assigned by the Professor. Your knowledge of the topic, ability to organize your thoughts, analysis, and clarity of writing will determine the points you earn. Additional instructions will be given to the students prior to completing the paper.

2. Field Project or Research Paper:

    Each student will complete ONE of the following three projects. The project must be approved by the professor. The approval form can be found at end of syllabus. The form needs to be submitted with the paper for your project. Social Work majors are strongly encouraged to complete either assignment one (1) or two (2).

Option 1:

Field Survey of Human Service Agencies. Visit at least four agencies, organizations or movements within one or more communities. You should explore items to include at least: a brief history, auspices, sources and amounts of funding, services or programs offered and to whom, how the agency demonstrates accountability to the community, and your perceptions and conclusions. You are responsible for identifying the agencies, making appointments, and introducing yourself to the appropriate agency personnel before beginning this or other agency types of projects. You must make an appointment prior to your visit, preferably at least one week before you visit the agency.

Option 2:

Volunteer to work for 25 or more hours in a social agency or other field setting. This is to be beyond what you might be doing to meet other course or program requirements. You should organize your thoughts about the experience to include a brief agency analysis (a brief history, sources and amounts of funding, services or programs offered and to whom, how the agency demonstrates accountability to the community), your activities in the agency, your reflections about the experience, and any conclusions you might have made. A log documenting the volunteer hours must be turned in with the paper. A form will be provided.

For options one (1) and two (2), the project is to culminate into a typewritten report. The report will be organized around the following outline:

1. What you did to complete the assignment;
2. A biographical sketch of the agency (a brief history, sources and amounts of funding, services or programs offered and to whom, how the agency demonstrates accountability to the community);
3. Interpretations of what you did;
4. Conclusions and summary.

It is important to begin the field project the first week of class. Periodically I will ask for a verbal or written report of your progress.

Option 3:

Complete a research paper with the topic to be approved by the professor. The paper should be at least six typewritten pages. The research paper must be written using the format of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association for in-text citations, reference lists and paper format. References should reflect the breadth and depth of your paper as evidenced by at least five (5) primary sources. Any work used from any source that is not correctly cited is considered plagiarism. An “F” for the course will be given for plagiarism.

3. Examinations:

There will be three tests and a final examination. The exam questions will be taken from the material covered in class and assigned readings.
4. Participation/Attendance

Regular class attendance is mandatory. If a student misses more than three classes, points will be deducted from their attendance/participation grade. Additionally, if students do not participate in class discussions and exercises, points will be deducted from their grade. It is expected students read assignments prior to class and can demonstrate this by actively participating in class discussions and activities.
