Course Description/Rationale:

This course consists of a full semester of field instruction, with a number of assignments and activities associated with the placement. The field work includes over 500 hours (placements during the summer are over 400 hours). Field instruction is the culmination of your academic preparation for a professional social work career. The experience will allow you the opportunity to integrate the values, knowledge, and skills you have learned through your studies.

Philosophy of Field Instruction:

Field instruction is an integral part of the social work education curriculum. It engages the student in a supervised practice activity providing opportunities for the student to apply knowledge, values, and skills in relation to identified client needs, agency purposes, and social sanction. As students learn from social work placement experiences with clients and staff, the knowledge, attitudes, and skills acquired from all areas of the curriculum are translated into accountable performance and professional competence.

Field instruction also provides opportunities for students to gain knowledge and understanding in all areas integrating theory and practice. Students will be provided with a generalist experience in their field placement agency; therefore, having opportunities to practice within a comprehensive range in types and sizes of client systems.

Students are responsible for their learning experience. They participate in the planning and identification of learning experiences available to them during their field placement.
