Course Description/Rationale: This course aims at understanding the dynamic between the natural features of the earth's surface and humans. In this course, students will examine the spatial relationships between human societies and cultures, the natural environment, and historical changes that shape the contemporary world around us. Major themes include historical and cultural settlement processes, the connection between history and geography, urbanization, ethnic conflict and nation building, globalization of economy and culture, political and international conflict, cultural diversity, migration, religion, and global environmental concerns. Relevant timely issues and events in the news will be tied into the overall framework of the course. Course Requirements

Attendance

Regular attendance is mandatory, although I will be amenable regarding unavoidable absences. In all cases, you should endeavor to speak to/email me in advance. No matter the circumstances, you may not be absent from class more than once throughout term. Each subsequent absence without proper reason will result in a deduction of 10 points from the affected student’s final grade. A student attending all lectures will automatically get 10 extra points at the end of the course.

Laptops, Phone calls and/or texting: NOT Allowed

Coffee and Water: Allowed

Food: NOT Allowed

Email etiquette: If your emails do not have a subject line, aren’t addressed properly to me, or do not have your name at the bottom, I will not respond to them.

Please understand that I will not tolerate any kind of racist, homophobic, sexist, Islamophobic, anti-semitic or any other kind of disrespectful conduct in class. That is against both Concord as well as Federal rules/laws. Disrespectful/aggressive conduct in class might land you in the Dean's office or get you dropped from the class altogether.

Grading Policy and Scale, Make-up Policy, Late Work

Your grade for this course will be based on exam scores, map test scores, class assignments and reaction papers. Three exams will be given throughout the semester and there are NO dropped exams. All other assignments will be explained in class. There is no final exam in this course.

I will not be accepting any late assignments, unless there is proper documentation for turning in your work late.

Your grade for this course will be based on the percentages:

Exam 1: 10%

Exam 2: 15%

Exam 3: 15%

Assignments: 10%

Will be mostly from your textbook or readings that I assign to you and the due dates will be announced well ahead in class. (Another reason for you to be in class everyday)

Map quizzes: 15%

There is going to be a map quiz EVERY WEEK except those when we have exams.

Three reaction papers: 15% (or 5% each)

These will be three film analysis assignments. This will entail watching a film in class/at home and subsequently writing a reaction paper on the film. You have a choice of choosing three films out of those that will be shown in class for your reaction papers. You have to turn in your reaction within a week of the film being shown. After that, it is on to the next film. Reaction papers are your take on the films shown in class and not a summary of the films. They should be 1-2 pages long in a standard font size(12) and 1.5 spaced.

Weekly News: 15%

You will blog about current events every week. Detailed instructions will be given in the classroom and on Blackboard.

Attendance: 5%

Academic Dishonesty

Academic dishonesty is morally unacceptable as well as destructive to the learning and teaching atmosphere. Academic dishonesty includes the giving or receiving of improper help on examinations or assignments, falsifying documents, and plagiarism (the act of stealing and using, as one's own, the ideas or the expression of the ideas of another). Such dishonesty can lead to a variety of penalties — including but not limited to failure of assignment, failure of course, loss of institutional privileges, or dismissal from the University. (See University Catalog Academic Policies and Procedures.)

Concord University Honor Code

A Concord University Honor Code was approved by students, staff, faculty, administration, and the CU Board of Governors. The Code states:

"As a member of the Concord University Community I will act with honesty and integrity in accordance with our fundamental principles and I will respect myself and others while challenging them to do the same."

The Honor Code is intended to unite the Concord community behind a culture of honesty, integrity, and civility.

Class/Online Attendance Policy

Regular class attendance is part of a student's academic obligation at Concord. Irregular attendance may affect academic performance adversely and is detrimental to the atmosphere of a class. (See University Catalog Academic Policies and Procedures.)

Emergency Alert System

In an effort to increase safety and security on our campus, Concord University encourages everyone to register for instant text message alerts. Alerts will only be used for security and safety notices. All students, faculty, and staff are eligible to receive text message alerts on their cell phones or email alerts. Please contact the IT Help Desk for further assistance (304-384-5291).

Emergency Information

Emergency/courtesy telephones are located at the main entrance of each residence hall and at various other locations on campus. Emergency telephones can be identified by the flashing blue light and will provide the user with a direct link to Public Safety at the press of a button. To report an on-campus emergency, call 304-384-5357 or 911. The Office of Public Safety is located on the bottom floor of the Rahall Technology Center. For further emergency information go to:
