Course Description

EPaT is an integrated course offering that combines three education classes: The Psychology of Teaching and Learning (EDUC 305) and Educational Technology (EDUC 301). A twenty-five hour field placement must be completed as part of this course.

EDUC 301 provides teacher candidates with the theory, knowledge and application of technology to teaching, learning and the curriculum. The course is based on the ISTE standards and the 21st Century Learning Skills. A grade of C or better is required.

EDUC 305 is the study of various educational theories, principles, and their implications for teaching and learning. Emphasis is placed on the linkage of educational theory with educational.

Course Rational

The course addresses the West Virginia Department of Education educational standards for pre-professional teachers and provides skills for the pre-service teacher that will aid in the process of becoming “21st Century Professionals.”

EPP Mission Statement

The mission of the EPP is to prepare educators who are competent, intentional, reflective, culturally responsive, leading, and empathic 21st Century Professionals. The EPP strives to provide all teacher candidates at the initial and advanced level with the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to become effective teachers/leaders by offering the highest quality instruction and programs.

Concord University Educational Goals

The educational programs of Concord University are designed to foster skills, knowledge, and attitudes applicable across a wide range of academic fields and professional careers in a culturally diverse, perpetually evolving global community. The General Studies Program provides opportunities to begin developing skills needed to address complex issues, to build a foundational knowledge base for lifelong learning, and to cultivate attitudes that promote personal and societal well-being and experiential enrichment. Building on the General Studies program, the baccalaureate degree programs provide opportunities for in-depth study in a student's chosen field(s). Building on selected baccalaureate degree programs, the master's degree programs provide opportunities for highly specialized research and professional development.

Skills: Proficiency in interpreting data, integrating information, formulating ideas, thinking critically, and communicating with others, as demonstrated by the following competencies:

1. Effective inter-communication skills and literacy adapted as needed for the demands of various kinds of discourse:
 - listening and speaking
 - reading and writing
 - numeracy
 - graphic communication
 - non-verbal communication
 - media and technology literacy
2. An ability to employ appropriate observational, logical, analytical, computational, creative, and critical thinking skills within and across academic disciplines; and to apply these skills in problem-solving.
3. An ability to employ appropriate methods and technologies for conducting empirical and scholarly research, to interpret research findings, and to use insights gained from such research as a basis for informed decision making.
4. An ability to analyze, synthesize, and integrate elements, information and ideas.
5. An ability to evaluate elements, information, and ideas on the basis of appropriate criteria.
6. An ability to apply and to transfer academic and experiential learning appropriately from one context to another.
7. An ability to learn and work effectively both independently and collaboratively.

Knowledge: Familiarity with principles underlying academic discourse in various fields, as demonstrated by the following capabilities:

An ability to discern the reciprocal influences of environments, cultural beliefs and attitudes, and societal institutions and practices.

1. An awareness of the fundamental characteristics and properties of the physical universe.
2. An ability to interpret events and trends within historical contexts.
3. Acquaintance with principles underlying languages, for example, linguistic, mathematical, and computer-language systems.
4. A recognition of the complex interactions between organisms, including human beings, and their environments.

5. An awareness of the aesthetic principles, methods, materials, and media employed in artistic performance and the creation of works of art and literature.
6. Self-knowledge, including awareness of one's own competencies, deficiencies, and optimal individual learning-style(s).

Attitudes: Tendencies conducive to self-knowledge, personal growth and development, and responsible citizenship as demonstrated by the following:

1. Habitual reflection on ethical/moral implications of actions when weighing decisions and evaluating outcomes.
2. Exercise of responsible leadership, including leadership by example, and of responsible followership.
3. Respectful attentiveness to differing perspectives and willingness to engage in dialogue across differences in order to seek mutual understanding and equitable conflict resolution.
4. Cultivation of and support for attitudes and practices that foster physical, mental, emotional, and social well-being.
5. Appreciation for the creative process and for the rich diversity of artistic achievement.
6. Commitment to social responsibility, including community service and civic engagement.
7. Motivation to pursue lifelong learning and ongoing intellectual growth.

National Standards

The Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC)

The Interstate Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (InTASC) is a consortium of state education agencies and national educational organizations dedicated to the reform of the preparation, licensing, and on-going professional development of teachers. Created in 1987, InTASC's primary constituency is state education agencies responsible for teacher licensing, program approval, and professional development. Its work is guided by one basic premise: An effective teacher must be able to integrate content knowledge with the specific strengths and needs of students to assure that all students learn and perform at high levels.

Praxis II Principles of Teaching and Learning

Effective teachers model and apply the Praxis Principles as they design, implement and assess learning experiences. These standards are listed and delineated at the Praxis website.

Learning Outcomes

This course will provide students with a basic understanding of various models of teaching and learning and the important components of each. Students will be encouraged to apply salient strategies/techniques from each model to classroom practice to improve student learning. Students will also examine techniques for assessing and evaluating teaching performance as well as the curriculum and instructional program within the school.

Course Objective and Competencies

EPAT addresses the West Virginia 21st. Century Professional Teaching Standards, the Praxis Principles of Learning and Teaching Standards and the ISTE's National Educational Technology Standards as they relate to teaching and learning through readings, discussions, demonstrations, exploratory learning, questioning, small group and independent learning activities, and reciprocal teaching. The course objectives contribute to the development of a cumulative "teacher work sample" completed during student teaching. The following table links the course objectives to the standards addressed above. The content of this course addresses CAEP Standard 1, Content and Pedagogical Knowledge, and the five indicators described under Standard 1.

Course Requirements EPaT utilizes Blackboard online instruction and assessment, weekly field placements and face to face sessions on campus. Please refer to the calendar, learning modules, assignments, and other information posted on Blackboard. Since this class is an online course you must access Blackboard on a regular basis. Your instructor will access Blackboard regularly and I would expect you to do likewise. Class communication will be handled through the email component of Blackboard!

Grading Policy and Scale, Make-up Policy, Late Work Submissions will be graded in a timely manner. As an asynchronous course work may be submitted early. Make-up work should not be a necessity. Work submitted late will be penalized five points per day. No credit will be available for work five or more days late. The grading scale follows

- A: 90-100
- B: 80-89
- C: 70-79
- D: 60-69
- F: Below 60

A grade of “C” or better is required to receive credit for EPaT (EDUC 301, EDUC 305)

Class/Online Attendance Policy

Regular class attendance is part of a student’s academic obligation at Concord. Irregular attendance may affect academic performance adversely and is detrimental to the atmosphere of a class. Since this course is a hybrid combining online and onsite instruction, any absences in excess of two (on campus and/or field placement) will result in the reduction of the course evaluation by one letter. (See University Catalog Academic Policies and Procedures.)

Late Submission Policy

Assignments that are uploaded to Blackboard: Any assignment not submitted via Blackboard by the deadline will be subject to a ten percent (10%) deduction per calendar day late. No assignment will be accepted and no points will be awarded after five (5) calendar days from the deadline. Late assignments may be submitted as email attachments through BlackBoard mail.

Assignments must also be uploaded to “Turnitin”. Instructions for creating an account in “TurnItIn” can be accessed at: http://www.turnitin.com/resources/documentation/turnitin/training/tii_student_qs.pdf Accounts created previously may be used with this course. There is also an instructional file for using Turnitin on the course homepage of Blackboard.

Discussions can be accessed using the “Discussions” link on the left margin of the homepage of the BlackBoard course. Also, links to the discussions are located in the corresponding learning module. For each Discussion Board topic, students will post their reply, and then respond to the replies of two other students. Late submissions will not be accepted for Discussion Board assignments. Post discussions and replies directly on the discussion board. DO NOT attach files.

Tests must be taken within the assessment window stipulated. The course professor reserves the right to require a student to re-take a test in the classroom.

Required Materials

Adobe Acrobat Reader; Java, Microsoft Office 2003/2007/2010. If you do not have this software on your home computer, refer to Blackboard: Course Menu > How To > Software for This Course or Microsoft.com for free downloads. Open office may also be downloaded if you do not have Microsoft Office downloaded on your computer.

Characteristics of an Educated Person

The University has a carefully defined and clearly understood vision of the liberally educated person and judges quality and success on the basis of knowledge and performance measured in relationship to those ideals. (See Academic Catalog pp. 7-10.)

Mission Statement

The mission of Concord University is to provide a quality liberal arts based education, to foster scholarly activities, and to serve the regional community.

Accessibility/Accommodations:

Concord University is committed to responding to the needs of students with disabilities as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act. Please inform your instructor at the beginning of the class semester if you have a disability and are requesting accommodations. It is your responsibility to self-disclose that you are requesting accommodations. The University and instructor will provide you with a reasonable accommodation. You should register with CU's Disability Services Office, located in the Athens campus Jerry and Jean Beasley Student Center, Bottom Floor, across from the Campus Post Office. The Disability Services Office phone is 304-384-6086 or you can email the Director, Nancy Ellison, at nellison@concord.edu for assistance.

Academic Dishonesty

Academic dishonesty is morally unacceptable as well as destructive to the learning and teaching atmosphere. Academic dishonesty includes the giving or receiving of improper help on examinations or assignments, falsifying documents, and plagiarism (the act of stealing and using, as one's own, the ideas or the expression of the ideas of another). Such dishonesty can lead to a variety of penalties — including but not limited to failure of assignment, failure of course, loss of institutional privileges, or dismissal from the University. (See University Catalog Academic Policies and Procedures.)

Concord University Honor Code

A Concord University Honor Code was approved by students, staff, faculty, administration, and the CU Board of Governors. The Code states:

"As a member of the Concord University Community I will act with honesty and integrity in accordance with our fundamental principles and I will respect myself and others while challenging them to do the same."

The Honor Code is intended to unite the Concord community behind a culture of honesty, integrity, and civility.

Class/Online Attendance Policy

Regular class attendance is part of a student's academic obligation at Concord. Irregular attendance may affect academic performance adversely and is detrimental to the atmosphere of a class. (See University Catalog Academic Policies and Procedures.)

Emergency Alert System

In an effort to increase safety and security on our campus, Concord University encourages everyone to register for instant text message alerts. Alerts will only be used for security and safety notices. All students, faculty, and staff are eligible to receive text message alerts on their cell phones or email alerts. Please contact the IT Help Desk for further assistance (304-384-5291).

Emergency Information

Emergency/courtesy telephones are located at the main entrance of each residence hall and at various other locations on campus. Emergency telephones can be identified by the flashing blue light and will provide the user with a direct link to Public Safety at the press of a button. To report an on-campus emergency, call 304-384-5357 or 911. The Office of Public Safety is located on the bottom floor of the Rahall Technology Center. For further emergency information go to:

<http://www.concord.edu/administration/office-public-safety>.

Inclement Weather Policy

As a general policy, the University will remain in normal operations during adverse weather conditions. In the event of severe weather conditions, the following may occur:

University Closure

No students or employees are to report.

Classes Cancelled

Students do NOT report BUT employees are expected to report to work at their normal time.

Operating on an Inclement Weather Delay

Under this schedule, all 8 a.m. classes will start at 10 a.m. Students and faculty will follow the Inclement Weather Schedule. (See <http://www.concord.edu/emergency-alerts> for Athens/Beckley Inclement Weather Schedules.)

Student Conduct

In classrooms, online, laboratories, and during any activities that are part of course requirements, students are expected to observe reasonable rules of conduct.

Sexual Harassment & Assault

Federal law, Title IX, and Concord University policy prohibits discrimination, harassment, and violence based on sex and gender (Including sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic/dating violence, stalking, sexual exploitation, and retaliation). If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you can receive confidential counseling support through the Concord University Counseling Center (304-384-5290). Alleged Violations can be reported non-confidentially to the Concord University Title IX Coordinator at 304-384-6327 or titleix@concord.edu. Reports to Campus Security can be made at (304-384-5357). As an employee at Concord University, I am a mandatory reporter which means I must report any sexual misconduct I am made aware of. This includes verbal or written (such as in an assignment) disclosures of sexual harassment or sexual assault.

Miscellaneous (for example):

Technical Difficulties

If there are technical difficulties submitting an assignment through Blackboard, follow these steps (in order):

1. Email the professor through Blackboard email immediately (the date and time of email will be recorded) and explain the situation. Attach the assignment to the email (if applicable).
2. If Blackboard is inaccessible, email the professor immediately (the date and time of email will be recorded) and explain the situation. Attach the assignment to the email (if applicable).
3. If email is not possible, call the professor's office immediately (the date and time of call will be recorded) and leave a voicemail message explaining the situation. Submit a hard copy (printed paper copy) of the assignment (if applicable) through e-mail.

Blackboard will be monitored regularly, especially as deadline approaches, to assure that the site is functioning properly. Individual student activity can be tracked on the system. Students are strongly advised to complete online quizzes and submit assignments in advance of deadlines to detect or avoid unexpected problems. If the professor is not notified of a problem as prescribed above, the late policy applies. A personal computer crash, loss of personal internet connection, loss of data saved on a disk or drive, or failure of a file to print will NOT be accepted as an excuse for late or un-submitted work. The late policy will apply in these cases.
